Opatija and Rijeka – Pearls of Kvarner bay

Friday and Saturday, 20 - 21 January 2012

Kvarner is an area that owing to its many diversities, from climate to vegetation, coasts, islands and highlands, varied architecture and culture, vicinity of European tourist generating regions, has been developing tourism for over 160 years, covering a three-century period.

The longest tourist tradition in Croatia, which offers a year-round variety of programmes, represents a rich experience, suitable for today's varied requirements, throughout all seasons. Kvarner is also one of the leading congress destinations in Croatia with excellent conditions for the organization of various congresses, meetings and seminars.

Emanating charm and fascinating appeal, Opatija – the Croatian Adriatic pearl, invites you to experience the charm of old good days when emperors and kings, members of old European families, artists and bon vivants used to reside here. This town is also one of the most beautiful tourist localities on the Adriatic, the town of film dreams, with hotel facades decorated in various historic styles, with tourists strolling along the sunny quayside even in the course of winter months.

Rijeka with numerous museums, theatres, galleries, ports and other living reminders of interesting industrial history, ancient Gradina and the Trsat Sanctuary are just a part of the wealth offered by the town of Rječina for which is known that lives 365 days a year. It is surely important to say that Rijeka ranks highly in the gastronomic stakes thanks to high-quality gastronomical facilities, café bars and restaurants. The inevitable part of the image of the town is a rich nightlife. The town is surely completed by the town centre and one of the biggest commercial centres in the region.
